

Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute

A Special PCORI Webinar: Setting Standards for Research Methods

Friday, August 3, 2012, 1:00 PM – 2:00 PM ET

Agenda

The Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI) is holding a special webinar to brief stakeholders on PCORI's draft Methodology Report and encourage public comment. The draft report, released July 23, 2012, offers standards to guide health care stakeholders towards the best and most appropriate methods for conducting patient-centered outcomes research

Time	Agenda Item	PCORI Speakers
1:00-1:05 p.m.	Welcome and Poll Questions	Lori Frank
1:05-1:10 p.m.	Introduction to PCORI	Joe Selby
1:10-1:20 p.m.	Methodology Committee Mission and draft Report <ul style="list-style-type: none">A primer on the objectives of the Methodology Committee and the process for creating the draft Methodology Report.	Robin Newhouse and Steven Goodman
1:20-1:30 p.m.	Research Methods Standards <ul style="list-style-type: none">A brief summation of the research methods proposed in the draft Methodology Report	Steven Goodman
1:30-1:55 p.m.	Question & Answer Session <ul style="list-style-type: none">Methodology Committee members Robin Newhouse and Steven Goodman will answer questions about the draft Methodology Report.	Lori Frank, Robin Newhouse and Steven Goodman
1:55 p.m.	Closing Poll Questions	Lori Frank
2:00 p.m.	Adjournment

Please submit questions for the Q&A portion of today's webinar to methodswebinar@pcori.org

Formal public comments can be submitted at pcori.org/survey/methodology-report/